

Bloomfield Record.

S. M. HULIN, Editor and Proprietor.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., NOV. 20, 1873.

Proclamation by the Governor.

All good citizens are hereby notified that the Supreme Court of the State of New Jersey, do hereby recommend that THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF NOVEMBER INSTANT, be observed within this State as a day of Public Thanksgiving and Prayer to Almighty God.

Given under my hand and seal at the Executive Chamber, in the City of Trenton, the twelfth day of November, A. D. eighteen hundred and Seventy-three, and of the Independence of the United States the ninety-eighth.

JOEL PARKER,
Governor.

JOHN A. HALL, Private Secretary.

The Spanish Macabre.

The capture of the American Steamer Virginian and the barbarous execution of her passengers by the Spanish authorities at Santiago de Cuba has been the exciting and absorbing topic during the past week.

While much was said and written upon the first shock of the news that was ill-directed and perhaps uncalled for, yet the most temperate discussions of the question do not lessen the enormity of the outrage. That it will result in the independence of Cuba, at no distant day, there can hardly be a reasonable doubt.

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held in Stewin Hall, New York, on Monday evening. There were many distinguished citizens present upon the platform including Gen. Don Fernando Wood, A. T. Stewart, Gen. Sigel, Wm. Cullen Bryant, A. Oakley Hall, Mayor Havens and many others. Wm. M. Lewis presided, and in his address was emphatic and decided in denunciation of the outrage and reasonably well grounded in his expression of the duties of our Government in the premises. His address concluded as follows:

Whatever may turn up to throw doubt or difficulty about this voyage of the Virginian, her ownership, and our flag, of this we are certain, that all of its ship's company that are American citizens have been sacrificed by no law of nations or of Spain that we are obliged to respect. Our duty, then, is plain. If it be true, as seems entirely probable, that the power of Spain no longer controls the actions of the Cubans—if it be true that these people have all the responsibility of irregular warfare—their plea satisfied that neither are they to be disturbed in the future. (Great applause.)

A letter was received by the Executive Committee of this meeting from Senator Sumner, but was not read at the meeting. Mr. Sumner takes the ground that the United States should insist on justice to Cuba and the emancipation of all slaves in the island, but opposes any action on the part of our government which should tend to weaken the republican movement in Spain or embarrass President Castelar, of whose character he expressed a high opinion.

Gov. Parker, in his dispatch to the same meeting, wrote as follows: "The outrage committed at Santiago de Cuba calls for prompt and decided action on the part of our Government. If Spain cannot suppress the revolution in Cuba nor prevent her adherents there from committing acts that disgrace humanity and shock the civilized world, it is time for her to relinquish all claim of authority over the island. The geographical position of Cuba makes her condition of vast importance to this country. I believe her destiny is to be a republic under the government of her own people, or to become part of the United States, a destiny which will be hastened by recent events and without the violation of any international law on our part. I hope to see the day when no European power will govern an acre of territory on this side of the Atlantic. The interests of this nation and the welfare of the human race demand it."

President Grant is in hearty sympathy with the feeling of indignation which has been aroused throughout the country. In regard to our relations with Spain, he entertains the hope that by the time Congress assembles a definite result will be reached, and looks for a peaceful settlement of our Cuban troubles. Yet he thinks it best to be prepared to protect the American flag and citizens at all hazards; if war becomes necessary we shall be better prepared for it than many suppose.

In direct confirmation of this may be remarked the activity of the Government, through Secretary Robeson, in the Navy Department. Although there is a characteristic absence of noise and bluster, in this department, yet the busy preparations at Washington, Brooklyn, Charleston, Norfolk, and Wilmington show that no time is being lost in changing the peace footing of our navy to that of war. There is a general acquiescence in this noteworthy promptitude of the Government and it is confidently hoped that, should the contingency of war arise at the coming session of Congress, our navy will be prepared for the emergency and have nothing to fear from the formidable character of the Spanish war ships.

President Grant, accompanied by Secretary Robeson, visited the Newark Industrial Exhibition on Saturday evening last, after which an informal but brilliant reception was given at the residence of Hon. G. A. Halsey. President Grant spent Sunday in Elizabeth, and returned to Washington in the evening.

Bold Burglary.

At an early hour on Monday morning a party of ruffians whose faces were muffled so as to completely disguise them, attacked the two watchmen at the Bloomfield horse car depot on Mount Prospect avenue, and before they had time to defend themselves overpowered them and placed handcuffs upon their wrists. They then threw them into a feed bin, and while three men stood guard over them with revolvers pointed at their heads, the rest of the gang broke into the office, and blew open the safe by means of gunpowder. After rifling the safe of about $600, the proceeds of Saturday and Sunday's receipts, the villains returned to the place where the watchmen lay bound and carried them to the rear of the stables, and left them bound hand and foot while they hastened to make good their escape with their plunder. As soon as they had left the place William Crasson, one of the watchmen who had fought bravely with the robbers before he was finally overpowered, managed with great difficulty to crawl to the side of his fellow-sufferer and gnawed the rope which bound his feet until they were free. The other watchman, whose name is Jacob Wintle, then performed the same friendly act for his companion, and with their hands still handcuffed, proceeded to the residence of the superintendent of the road, Mr. Mullin, and related the story of the outrage to him.

Pateron Relief Bureau.

The Aldermanic Relief Committee of Pateron have made a report embracing a plan for the employment of the unemployed poor of that city during the coming winter. This report was presented to the Common Council on Monday night and was received with satisfaction. Its leading features provide for a system of public works to be prosecuted during the winter, and relate chiefly to the cutting of grades, and street paving by the macadam process. The standard of wages is fixed at 12 cts. per hour. As to the question of means for defraying the expense to be incurred in this undertaking, the committee report a statement of resources from street improvement bonds and tax assessments amounting in the aggregate to $500,000. Owners of property to be improved are requested to respond to this relief movement by advancing their proportion of the estimated costs. In regard to the relief of the large number of females who may be out of work and dependent upon their own exertions, this plan of relief, of course, is not available, but the committee hope this most sensitive and dependent element of the community will not be subjected to this necessity.

The Revival at Watessing.

There is no abatement in the religious interest at Watessing. The whole village seems moved and the attendance on the meetings has been large despite the late storm and bad walking. Up to Wednesday seventy-three in all have professed conversion. Sunday was a marked day in the church; forty were taken on probation during the day. In the evening the church was crowded, and a number had to go away disappointed. The interest among the converts is great. They are holding young peoples' meetings at private houses. Every day while the dull times last, a meeting for Bible study will be held in the church at 9:30 A. M. At 3 P. M. other class or prayer meeting and at 7 P. M. protracted meeting. The band will be down again Saturday and Sunday. All are invited to come, and especially any who are seeking Christ.

Gen. Sherman at the Industrial Exhibition.

Gen. W. T. Sherman has accepted an invitation to visit the Newark Industrial Exhibition and it is announced that he will be present on to-morrow, Friday evening. In his letter accepting the invitation he has expressed a desire to meet the soldiers who fought with him in the late war, but in an informal way, without the ceremony of a military parade. This occasion will doubtless be the means of attracting to the Rink many of the veterans of the 18th N. J. regiment which participated in the March to the Sea and the Campaign of the Carolinas. They will gladly embrace this opportunity to meet their old commander, few of whom have seen him since the grand review at Washington at the close of the war.

We deeply sympathize with Rev. Dr. Stubbart in the loss of his daughter, Willie-etta, who died on Wednesday morning, in the seventeenth year of her age. She with patience endured much suffering from a protracted illness, supported by a trust in her Saviour, to whose service she had devoted her life years ago, and finally falling asleep in him, realized that "Jesus can make a dying bed feel soft as downy pillows are." The funeral service will take place on Sunday afternoon next, at 3 o'clock, in the Baptist church.

Pres't Wilson, of the Newark and Bloomfield Horse R. Co., offers a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of the thieves who committed the burglary at the depot on Sunday night.

Accident on the Morris & Essex Rail Road.

With deep regret we have to announce a sad accident which befell one of our townsmen, Mr. Martin Croughan, on Saturday afternoon last. Mr. Croughan was engaged in business in New York, came out on an earlier train than usual, intending to stop over in Newark to transact some business. Through forgetfulness he allowed the train to carry him up the hill, and then, discovering his mistake, he jumped from the cars. Two other men got off safely at the same place but unfortunately Croughan in jumping fell against a flagman's house and was violently thrown back under the wheels of the moving train, and had his legs crushed badly. He was taken to St. Michael's hospital where he died the same night.

Martin Croughan was thirty-three years of age, industrious in his habits, honest, and much respected by all who knew him; he leaves an amiable wife and three children to mourn his loss. His funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, and was attended by numerous friends and mourners. To the bereaved and sorrow stricken widow and family, while we feel the loss is irreparable, yet we tender with the kindest of feelings our sincere sympathy and condolence for the calamity which has fallen on them.

Alfred Cockfair, aged about twelve, a son of Mr. Lewis Cockfair, met with a mishap at the Central School last Thursday. Among others he was playfully exercising upon the iron railing which encloses a small space on the north side of the building; while in the act of turning himself by his hands upon the rail another boy, pushed him into an awkward position, which caused an unusual strain upon his back. His injury, although not at first seriously complained of, has resulted in an illness which has been very painful and alarming, and the cause of much solicitude to his parents. Dr. Davis, who has attended the lad, speaks somewhat encouragingly as to his ultimate recovery.

It may be of interest to the ladies of Bloomfield to know that Mr. J. S. Chittling, who is connected with one of the most extensive fur houses in New York, will for the next thirty days offer the retail trade furs at less than wholesale prices, being desirous of reducing their stock before the first of the year. Parties wishing to purchase furs can save thirty per cent by availing themselves of this opportunity. A note left at the Bloomfield Post Office for Mr. Chittling will receive prompt attention.

The Euclidean Lecture Committee desire us to announce that they will sell tickets good for the last two entertainments of the course, (Hon. Fred. Douglass's lecture and the grand concert,) for $1. The price of tickets at the door will be 50 cents for the lecture, and 75 cents for the concert. The tickets at the reduced rate may be obtained at the drug stores of Dr. White and Mr. G. R. Davis and of members of the Euclidean Society.

At a late meeting of the Scientific Department of the Euclidean Association, an interesting paper was presented by one of our physicians, relating to the Trichina Spiralis, being a complete history of that disease, and embracing personal incidents of its occurrence and treatment. We learn that this Association contemplates an earnest work during the winter, both in the scientific and social departments of its organization.

The flagging which has recently been put down upon the sidewalk of Belleville avenue, has the appearance of being a very good job. It was done under contract, by Madison Bros., and we casually heard, at the late town-committee meeting, that the property owners were exceedingly well pleased, both with the material used and the manner in which the work has been performed.

The Readings and Recitations by Miss Minnie Swazey, under the auspices of the Euclidean Society, were given in the Presbyterian Church on Monday evening. Notwithstanding the storm a very good audience was present—nearly three hundred, it was estimated. Those who attended were amply repaid for braving the inclemency of the weather.

We would call attention to the notice of Collector Campbell to delinquent tax-payers. More than one-half the township assessment remains as yet unpaid. The money due the town from this source is much needed at the present time, and it is earnestly hoped the notice of the Collector will receive the attention it merits.

In order to give the attaches of this office a chance to be thankful, we shall print Tax Receipts on Wednesday next, instead of issuing it on Thursday, as heretofore. Our friends will therefore please hand in their items, communications and advertisements on Tuesday morning.

The next regular meeting of the Euclidean Society is to be held at their rooms next Monday night. We have seen a programme of the order of exercises, which embraces readings and essays by various members. The closing exercise is a discussion open to all.

Linden, Washington and Midland avenues were lighted with gas for the first time on Tuesday evening.

Our sidewalks, with some few exceptions, were promptly cleared of the snow on Tuesday.

A new time-table is announced for the M. & E. Railroad, to take effect next week.

UNDER THE SNOW.

Though the snow is deep, 'neath the woodland mold,
And the birds have flown from the storm and cold;
Though the forests and hills are robbed of their bloom,
The angel of beauty is still working unseen:

Under the snow the flower buds lie,
Awaiting the smile of a warmer sky,
When from their death-like sleep they will spring,
Gladness and beauty on the earth to bring.

Under the snow the leaf buds, asleep
Through the long winter, their silence keep,
Till the songs of the spring-time shall charm them
And the forest be glad to their gladness.

To garish the forest, the hill-side and glen,
Under the snow in the graveyard's shade—
There are the treasures we gently laid,
Awaiting the voice that shall bid them arise

To share with the loved ones the bliss of the skies.
Under the snow—it is peaceful there;
Absence of fear and harrowing care,
Silent for aye is it under the snow.

Where wisdom is working what we may not know,
MORONETTE.

Cut This Out.

IT MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE.
There is no person living but what suffers more or less with Lung Diseases, Coughs, Colds, or Consumption, yet some die rather than pay 72 cents for a bottle of medicine that would cure them. Dr. A. Boschee's German Syrup has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonderful cures astonish every one that try it. If you doubt what we say in print, cut this out and take it to GEORGE R. DAVIS, Druggist, and get a sample bottle free of charge, or a regular size for 75 cts.
